

Paul B. Hofmann, DrPH, FACHE

Dr. Paul Hofmann is president of the Hofmann Healthcare Group, Moraga, California. In the past, he served as the executive vice president and chief operating officer of the Alta Bates Corporation, executive director of Emory University Hospital; and director of Stanford University Hospital and Clinics. He has also served as Distinguished Visiting Scholar at Stanford University's Center for Biomedical Ethics.

Dr. Hofmann is a past member of the American College of Healthcare Executives' Leadership Advisory Committee, and he coordinates the annual ethics conference for the College. In addition to being co-editor of Managing Ethically: An Executive's Guide, published in 2001 by Health Administration Press, he is co-editor of Management Mistakes in Healthcare: Identification, Correction and Prevention, published in 2005 by Cambridge University Press. In 2009, he received the American Hospital Association's Award of Honor for his central role in shaping the field's understanding of health care ethics.

An author of over 150 publications, Dr. Hofmann has held faculty appointments at Harvard, UCLA, Stanford, Emory, Seton Hall and the University of California. He earned his undergraduate, MPH, and doctor of public health degrees from the University of California.