

Jason Adelman, MD, MS

Dr. Jason Adelman began his career at Montefiore as a hospitalist in 2003, and has been the Patient Safety Officer for the Montefiore Health System for the past 10 years. After completing the AHA-NPSF Patient Safety Leadership Fellowship in 2011, he was subsequently selected to be a Senior Fellow of the Health Research & Educational Trust (HRET), the research arm of the American Hospital Association. Dr. Adelman is also a member of the National Quality Forum (NQF) Committee on Patient Safety Complications, and is on the Editorial Board of the Journal for Healthcare Quality, as well as the National Patient Safety Foundation's Insight Magazine. Dr. Adelman has a master's of science from Albert Einstein College of Medicine's Clinical Research Training Program, and focuses his research on the use of information technology to prevent medical errors. Dr. Adelman was invited by the New York State Commissioner of Health to participate as a member of the Department of Health's Quality and Patient Safety External Advisory Committee. Most recently, he was named one of "50 Experts Leading the Field of Patient Safety" by Becker's Hospital Review.