

Matthew L. Primack, PT, DPT, MBA

Matthew Primack serves as Advocate Condell Medical Center's Vice President of Business Development and Clinical Institutes. Primack's hybrid position of business development and operations leads to primary accountabilities of strategic planning, mergers and acquisitions, physician engagement and alignment, and clinical operations of the Heart and Vascular, Orthopedic and Spine, Cancer, and Neurosciences Institutes. Primack also leads several hospital-wide and Advocate Health Care system-wide initiatives to address growth, expense management, and patient experience.

Prior to joining the leadership team at Advocate Condell, Primack operated a private practice in the field of physical medicine and rehabilitation. His practice, which he started in 2000, grew significantly over seven years of operation and was recognized by Crain's Chicago Healthcare and Lake County's Daily Herald for exemplary patient care and small business success. In addition to his clinical care and practice management, Primack launched a boutique consulting firm dedicated to the growth and financial success of private medical practices.

Primack received his undergraduate degree from the University of Cincinnati in Pre-Medicine Biopsychology, a graduate degree from the Chicago Medical School in Physical Therapy, a clinical doctorate from Rosalind Franklin University of Medicine and Science in Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation, and a Masters in Business Administration from the University of Chicago. He completed the American Hospital Association's Health Care Transformation Fellowship, is an active member of the American College of Healthcare Executives, and serves as an ambassador for the Chicago Regency Advisory Council. He is currently the Vice President of Rosalind Franklin University's College of Health Professions Alumni Association, and recently appointed to the University of Chicago's Booth School of Business Executive MBA Ambassador's Board.

Primack has a passion for the advancement and success of others, serving as a Healthcare Innovation Advisor to the University of Chicago's Booth School of Business/Polsky Center for Entrepreneurship and mentors graduate students through healthcare career opportunities and placement. Primack is also a member of Chicago Public School's Minds in Motion Steering Committee, a member of the Chicago Council on Global Affairs, and serves on the boards of several other philanthropic organizations.
